

Bristol Motor Club 2012 Fantasy F1 Championship

Each entry consists of two drivers and two teams, each of which scores points according to their actual performance in the 2012 F1 Championship. As a bonus, each entrant may estimate how many times each driver in the championship will out-qualify their team-mate.

How to Enter

Read through the rules below, then complete the Entry Form. Give your Fantasy Team a name of your choosing, and pick 2 Drivers and 2 Teams from the lists below.

In the Bonus Qualifying Round, enter your estimate of how many times each driver will out-qualify his team-mate in the 2012 season. Send the form to the Fantasy League organiser Andy Laurence.

Regulations

1. Each team consists of two drivers and two teams. In addition, each entrant will estimate how many times each driver will out-qualify their team-mate.
2. The total cost of the teams and drivers must be less than £80m. There is no cost associated with the qualifying estimates.
3. Each entrant should be a member of Bristol Motor Club and can enter only once.
4. Should a team not start the season or not complete the season, no points will be gained and there will be no right to change teams.
5. Should a driver be replaced at a team, the replacement driver will score points for the driver he replaced. As such, entrants are essentially selecting "Driver 1" and "Driver 2" from a team.
6. There are no prizes for winning but your fellow competitors will (probably) be in awe.
7. If a team does not complete the season, then the qualifying scores will still count. For example, those who guessed each driver in the USFI team in 2010 would out-qualify their team mate 0 times correctly estimated and scored bonus points.
8. If a team only runs one car in qualifying, then that driver is deemed to have out-qualified their team mate.

Scoring

9. Each driver/team scores points for qualifying and/or finishing in the top 10 as follows:

Position	Points
1	25
2	18
3	15
4	10
5	8
6	6
7	4
8	3
9	2
10	1

10. Each driver scores one make-up point for each position gained over his starting position. For example, a driver starting in 20th place and finishing 15th would score 5 make-up points.
11. For each correct estimate of how many times a driver will out-qualify their team mate over the season, 20 points will be awarded. For example, if Sebastian Vettel out-qualifies Mark Webber 15 times and Mark Webber out-qualifies Sebastian Vettel 5 times, then an entrant will score 20 points for correctly guessing 15 for Sebastian Vettel and a further 20 points for correctly guessing 5 for Mark Webber.
